(995-1035) CANUTE (a KNUT)

King of England, Denmark, and NORWAY. Son of SWEYN of Denmark.
On the death of Edmund Ironside, with whom he had divided the country, he was proclaimed King of England. On the death of his brother, HAROLD, he also became King of Denmark (1019). He secured his position by the creation of a standing army. In 1028 he.

invaded and annexed Norway. He died suddenly at SHAFTESBURY, England, and was buried in St Peter's Abbey Church in Winchester.
